

Competency-Based Education at CSU-Global

Over the last 18 months, CSU-Global has been developing, assessing, and enhancing its abilities and effectiveness in competency-based education. Its program has been designed to offer students access to self-guided learning resources at no-charge, followed by the opportunity for students to demonstrate their competency of the information in a proctored exam at a fee of $250 for a 3-credit exam. Backed with its refined processes and data on student success between standard courses and competency-based exams, the University will formally launch its program in June 2014, with a promotion plan into FY15.
